CITY TO SEEK U. S. AID FOR TEMPORARY HOSPITAL FACILITIES

Commission Decides on Course of Action After Permanent Structure Is Ruled Out.

...e with official opinions that Marion cannot build a permanent addition to City hospital until after the war because of priorities on essential materials, the hospital building commission last night voted to authorize Mayor Russell C. Snare to inform the federal works agency that the city will cooperate with the government by making available and providing operating facilities for a temporary structure built with funds from a government grant.

Mayor Snare said he would write letters today to D. B. Kercher, Chicago, regional FWA engineer, and Don S. Cameron of the Social Security Agency, U. S. public health service in Chicago, apprising them of the commission's proposal.

Mr. McLaughlin of the Lima firm of McLaughlin & Associates, employed on the hospital matter with the commission, met with the mayor's office.

Adopted Unanimously

The commission also advised Mayor to inform the FWA that he would gladly send a representative and Mr. McLaughlin to the regional office to talk directly with government officials about the services of the commission engineer and architect on any project the government may propose.

The resolution adopted unanimously last night was that "Mr. Kennicott be notified the city of Marion will cooperate with the government for additional hospital facilities and will make a site available adjacent to the present hospital, the structure to be constructed with federal funds and operated in conjunction with the present hospital."

Present with the mayor and architect were three members of the commission, C. O. Brown, Walter A. Dorsey and A. W. Kette. Dr. E. L. Brady was out of the city.

It was the concensus last night that with the Scioto Ordnance Plant rapidly taking form, speed is essential if Marion is to have anywhere near adequate hospital facilities.

No Structural Steel

The mayor and Mr. McLaughlin told the commission that while it might go ahead with plans for the permanent structure and probably would be granted priorities, the priorities would be of a classification that would not release such a critical item as structural steel.

Their statement was based on a letter from Mr. Kennicott on June 6 asking that the architect eliminate all critical war materials from his plans, "for it is practically impossible for us to obtain a priority rating from the war production board on any projects which are not absolutely essential to increasing the war efforts."

Mr. McLaughlin said in his opinion, under the wording of the levy which raised $200,000 for an addition to the hospital, the commission would be enjoined from building any type structure other than a fireproof addition and that it also could be enjoined from employing an architect for any but the fireproof structure stipulated in the levy.

The type of temporary structure which might be built was discussed and it was generally agreed that it probably would be a one-story frame building.

Mr. McLaughlin suggested that the commission learn whether or not it would be possible to get a government grant that would be enough to build the temporary structure and provide heating, lighting and plumbing facilities and then the commission might purchase the regular hospital equipment and later transfer the equipment to the permanent structure.

The mayor said that Mr. Cameron visited him last week and said the city would be informed in the near future as to a recent survey made by the U. S. public health department.

57 SELECTEES LEAVE TODAY

700 Present for "Send-Off" at Bus Station; Harding Band Plays.

Almost an hour before two buses taking 57 men from Marion County Draft Board No. 1 to Columbus for induction at Fort Hayes left the bus terminal on North State street this morning friends and relatives began to assemble to wish the men Godspeed. By the time the buses left at 8:30 the crowd had grown until it covered an estimated 700 feet on both sides of State street. At that time the area north from Center street to the second alley was closed to traffic, which was directed by members of the police force.

The first public sendoff for the group, three weeks ago, the men said, was the one they would like to have the band and crowd remember them by when the Army and can-

"Australia Can Be Lost," Prime Minister Warns

Declares War News Not Good; Outlines Present Three Major Axis Thrusts.

By The Associated Press

Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin gravely warning that "Australia can be lost," declared today that the war news was not good and that the fall of the down-under continent would lay Hawaii and the whole North American coast open to Japanese attack.

Curtin, who recently challenged Japan to attempt an invasion of Australia, said the Axis was engaged in three major thrusts against the United Nations and that each of vital importance to Australia.

1 North Africa—"The news from Libya is not good. Rommel has made gains at great cost, but nevertheless gains which are clearly reverses for our forces.

"It is clear that the struggle in this theater has reached the critical stage."

2. Russia—"Australia is irrevocably linked" with Russia's defense against the current German onslaught.

3 Blockade—"Submarine warfare against the Allies has reached a high intensity, and shipping losses, I tell you bluntly, are beyond our present annual replacement capacity."

A complete setback for the Allies in the Middle East would gravely affect Australia, he said, because it would give the Axis command of the Suez and the gateway to India, leaving the Indian Ocean open for enemy approach to Australia.

In a radio address appealing for war loan subscriptions at the rate of $9,000,000 a day for the remaining five days of a current drive, Curtin said he based his statements on confidential official telegrams.

While Curtin drew this somber picture, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's airmen continued the business of beating off Japanese aerial attacks.

Gen. MacArthur said Japanese bombers tried for the fourth successive day yesterday to soften the defenses of the far north Australian port of Darwin, but failed to inflict major damage as Allied fliers drove them off.

Altogether, Gen. MacArthur said, the Japanese have lost 13 bombers and fighters in the forces against a loss of six Allied fighter planes.

On the China war front, Chinese dispatches said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies had recaptured the Yangtze river port of Hosueh, Hopeh province shipping center, and had driven the Japanese invaders into full retreat.

PROBATION REVOKED, MAN GOES TO PEN

Another Is Placed on Probation in Marion Court.

Probation of a Marion man was revoked and a Caledonia man was placed on a year's probation in actions yesterday afternoon in the court of Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young.

Chester Townsend of Marion was sentenced by Judge Young to an indeterminate term in the Ohio Penitentiary following violation of probation.

Indicted by the January term of the grand jury for stealing and operating an automobile on March 4, he entered a plea of not guilty on March 18 and his bond was set at $500. On April 18 he changed his plea to guilty and was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for a two-year period.

Yesterday the judge revoked the probation following Townsend's arrest for drunken and disorderly conduct.

Robert Mowery Goodman of Caledonia, charged with assault and battery in connection with an attack on a Marion woman in April, was placed on probation for a year by Judge Young.

Brought from the county jail to the courtroom, he entered a plea of guilty to the charge, on information given by Prosecuting Attorney James E. Reed.

OHIO SCRAP DRIVE MAKING PROGRESS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17 — Ohio will turn over to war industries "far better than a billion pounds of scrap metals this year" at the present collection pace, Robert O. Weible, executive secretary of the state salvage program, predicted today.

He told a conference of state, county and local salvage chairmen that collections yesterday reached 508,437,527 pounds in addition to "hundreds of thousands of tons" gathered through the industrial drive, special projects and the auto graveyard section of the program.

Weible based his statements on reports from 334 of 670 local and county committees, 88 county representatives of the U. S. department of agriculture, the state highway department, the state welfare department and the International Harvester Co. campaign.

The same reports, he said, showed that 7,840,742 pounds of scrap rubber, 3,393,562 pounds of old rags and 38,316,237 pounds of waste paper had been gathered.

One of the scheduled highlights of today's program was the arrival from Milford, O., of members of the first women's volunteer truck drivers corps in the nation. The truckwriting will turn on a load of scrap rubber.

Ickes Reveals Florida Pipe Line Approval

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes announced today approval of plans for the construction of an 8-inch petroleum products pipe line across Northern Florida, to help supply the Atlantic coastal areas as far north as Norfolk, Va.

The project was proposed by the American Liberty Pipe Line Company, Dallas, Tex., to be built with second-hand pipe excavated in Texas. Ickes said the company now was negotiating financing arrangements with government agencies.

Petain Admits Discontent Growing Among the French

Speaks on Anniversary of Suit for Peace with Germany; Hopes for Salvation.

By The Associated Press

VICHY, June 17 — Discontent is growing, Chief of State Petain admitted today in a brief broadcast to the French people on the second anniversary of his suing for peace with Germany.

The 86-year-old chief said, however, that he hoped to realize his country's salvation "even after my death."

"Frenchmen," he began, "on June 17, 1940, at the tragic hour of the armistice request, I summoned you to silence your anguish so as to hearten only your faith in the destiny of your country.

"A year later, on June 17, 1941, I declared to you that the road would be long and hard. Today I cannot speak to you in different terms.

He went on to say, "I do not at all hide from myself the feeblenesses of the echoes my appeals have met with . . . the weight I suffers— and its enforced prolongation cannot be taken yet lessening the peasant grows impatient."

Petain admitted also "the [illegible] but said individuals likewise were to blame "if sometimes discouragement is growing, if anger is rumbling."

He insisted nevertheless that "[illegible] weariness, the neglect, the reproaches have not disheartened me. . . ."

Refraining from mention of the international situation or French politics, the marshal cast [illegible] profiteers and "the vile powers of money."

He concluded with one of his first public references to his own mortality.

"Chase doubt out of your spirits, dear friends, and if you can banish bitter criticism from it stop to think of the chief who loves you and who for your sakes still stands up under the storm . . .

"He should like to do still more for you. Let him at least on this second anniversary of one of the cruelest dates in our history make you share the great hope which still animates him for the salvation of your country, which he asks God that he may be able to realize even after his death.

"Long live France!"

Writer Says France '42 Not France '40

Roy P. Porter, who here writes of France on the second anniversary of her capitulation to Germany, served in 1927-1940 in the Paris bureau of The Associated Press and in 1941 in Vichy. He was in Paris during the German occupation of the city.

NEW YORK, June 17—France began her third year of servitude under German military masters today.

Late at night just two years ago, Marshal Petain told his country, "I made contact with the adversary last night, seeking him as a soldier to soldier to see with me the means to stop the fight."

Thus did the commander-in-chief of all French armed forces—the same who 20 years earlier at Verdun had said "they shall not pass"—translate 42 weeks of wearying warfare into German military domination.

Then—France was defeated. Today—she is defiant.

Then—France was hungry. Today—because Germany has taken carloads of her foodstuffs she is hungrier, to the point where her babies are dying, her children sick and her parents ageing prematurely.

Then—France looked toward the United States for help. Today—she is still looking toward America, but this time with her hope high that American soldiers, sailors and marines will soon invade her war-devastated north to create the projected "second front"—the "European" front against Nazidom.

Dowler Gets Kiwanis Post

Attorney Harry L. Dowler of 196 South Greenwood street yesterday was elected lieutenant governor of the fourth division of the Ohio district of Kiwanis International.

The election took place in Cleveland, where the Ohio convention is being held in conjunction with the international convention.

Mr. Dowler's election to succeed John McCrystal, Sandusky, O., attorney, places him at the head of clubs in Marion, Mansfield, Galion, Mt. Gilead, Fremont, Norwalk, Sandusky, Tiffin, Bellevue, Crestline, Carey, Port Clinton and Fostoria. His candidacy was sponsored by the Marion club.

The Marion delegates and alternates to the district and international sessions, their wives and members of the club, are expected home following the closing sessions Thursday. Mr. Dowler is attending as a delegate to the Ohio district sessions.

President in 1941

Mr. Dowler is immediate past president of the Marion Kiwanis club. During his year as president, 1941, attendance increased 12 per cent, the club sponsored a "Go to Church" movement which won state and national recognition in the Kiwanis organization, and the members donated the Salvation Army lassies at Christmas time, collecting hundreds of dollars for the Army's holiday work.

In 1939 he served as chairman of the public affairs committee of the club and in 1940 he was vice

CRAFT BADLY BATTERED IN SEA-AIR FIGHT

Enemy Aircraft Losses Placed at 104 with Several Others Badly Damaged.

By The Associated Press

Pacific army bombers were credited today with scoring 35 direct bomb hits on two Italian battleships in the great sea-air battle in the Mediterranean last week-end and a British source declared the American fliers had so battered the Fascist naval squadron that it never made contact with a British convoy it set out to intercept.

"It was like shooting fish in a barrel," said Maj. Alfred F. Kalberer, who led the Americans on their first battle flight against the axis in the Mediterranean theater.

One Fascist battleship was hit 20 times, the other 15, Kalberer said. In addition, a cruiser was set afire and a destroyer damaged.

Simultaneously, the RAF announced that a second air attack Monday night had resulted in another hit on one of the two Italian battleships set afire by U. S. army and RAF fliers Monday morning.

An RAF communique said the battleship was hit despite a heavy smoke screen laid down by four escorting destroyers, which were also attacked again.

14 Axis Planes Lost

The communique said 14 axis planes were definitely shot down in the central Mediterranean fighting and many others were "so badly damaged that it is unlikely they returned to their bases."

The British themselves acknowledged sharp losses in sending much-needed supplies to Malta and the beleaguered north African fortress at Tobruk, but said the results would not be disclosed until the information would no longer be of value to the enemy.

Britain and Russia fought desperately to hold the two key citadels of Tobruk and Sevastopol under increasingly violent assault by the Axis armies today while the RAF reported heavy new blows overnight to Adolf Hitler's Ruhr and Rhineland industrial centers.

On the North African front, Lieut.-Gen. Neil Ritchie's troops, reinforced by seaborne supplies delivered with the help of U. S. army fliers, broke up Axis attacks on both flanks of Tobruk but it was apparent that the danger to the historic British stronghold on the shores of the Mediterranean was growing hourly.

With the Axis attacking on a half-moon front, British headquarters reported that Imperial forces had driven off an Axis armored lunge at Sidi Rezegh and repulsed day-long thrusts at Acroma.

Sidi Rezegh, 30 miles west of the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, is 25 miles southeast of Tobruk. Acroma lies 20 miles southwest of Tobruk.

A third axis force was massed at El Adem, 12 miles due south of Tobruk, but "failed to attack," the British said.

By contrast, Premier Mussolini's high command asserted that axis forces had knifed into some British positions in the Acroma and El Adem sectors and captured more than 6,000 prisoners.

On the Russian front, Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted that axis troops had cut deep wedges into Soviet fortified lines around Sevastopol, in the Crimea, but acknowledged that the assault forces were meeting "bitter resistance and difficulties of terrain."

Russian accounts stressed Red army counterattacks on the

HOUSE REJECTS BILL PROPOSAL

Ways and Means Committee Won't Split Pending Tax Measure.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — A polite but "emphatic "no" came from house ways and means committee members today in reply to President Roosevelt's suggestion that congress divide the pending tax bill and speed action on excise levies which would produce more than $1,000,000 a day in immediate new revenue.

In view of a prospect that the $6,500,000,000 overall tax bill might not become law for several months, Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference yesterday that it might be wise to go ahead at once with the excise which, on the basis of committee action would produce ultimately about $600,000,000 a year. Tax experts explained that several months would be required to get the machinery in full motion.

Mr. Roosevelt remarked that the tax part of the anti-inflation program was "not [illegible] Every day that passed without action on a new revenue measure cost the treasury a considerable money, he said, adding that he hoped a bill would reach him sometime this year.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) and other committee men said they were glad to have the President's recommendation but remarked that since they were so nearly finished with consideration of the whole question, it did not appear practical to defer action on billions of dollars in corporation and individual income tax increases.

"It might have been wise to do it in the beginning but it's pretty late now to start on it," Doughton said. "I don't think it would be feasible to enact two bills now."

President Roosevelt's suggestion, which came shortly after the committee shelved his recommendation that an individual's income be limited to $25,000 by the treasury department only two days ago, involved so many considerations, members said, that adequate study could not be given before the new bill is ready for the house.

Doughton said he hoped that the measure would be ready for floor debate by July 4. House leaders have arranged for at least a week of discussion and senators have predicted they would study it for at least five weeks.

Steubenville Blackout Tonight "Important"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—Gov. John W. Bricker will deliver a 15-minute address over the nation-wide network of the Mutual Broadcasting System at 10:15 p. m. tonight during Steubenville's trial blackout. He will describe Ohio's participation in the national war effort.

The blackout will be the first total experiment in the state and is expected to provide a pattern for aerial defense through the vital steel district.

State defense council spokesmen said the city presented an "interesting problem" with its open steel furnaces and the Ohio river nearby.

Marion's Scrap Rubber Campaign Getting Results

Collections Are Accumulating; Meeting Scheduled for Tonight.

Scrap rubber collection centers at service stations throughout the city and the general collection bin in the city parking lot at the corner of Prospect and Church streets continued to fill today as drive officials prepared to correlate similar campaigns sponsored by several Marion groups.

At a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Chamber of Commerce office, officials of the Marion County Salvage committee will meet with bulk plant representatives of the city's major oil companies, independent oil dealers, Boy Scout officials, city merchants, industrialists and representatives of the Marion County Ministerial association to arrange for full cooperation of all participating groups.

George Alber, Marion county chairman of the Ohio Salvage committee, estimated today that two tons of rubber had been placed in the general bin at Prospect and Church streets. "However," he said, "we are glad to have two tons but would like to have 10 tons.

"In order for the drive to be a success it will be necessary for every resident of Marion county to realize the seriousness of the situation. On the outcome of this drive hinges, to a great extent, the outcome of the Allied war," Mr. Alber said.

All Cooperating

H. A. Krigbaum, who is Marion county chairman of the Petroleum War Council, said a survey of Marion service stations revealed today that all dealers, without exception, are cooperating to the fullest extent. Some dealers, he said, already have as much as 1,000 pounds of scrap material on hand. Mr. Krigbaum estimated that more than a ton of rubber had been collected at $50-a-Month for Fighting Forces Becomes Law.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — A measure boosting the minimum base pay of the nation's fighting forces to $50 a month was signed into law today by President Roosevelt.

For most of the men, it means at least $20 more each month for necessities and entertainment on time-off, or to send back home to dependents. The bill carried a clause making the increase retroactive to June 1.

The measure covers ranks up to and including that of second lieutenant in the army and the comparable grade of ensign in the navy, whose base pay would be increased from $1,200 to $1,500 a year.

The bill also will boost rental allowances for all save [illegible] ranking [illegible] and provide [illegible] per cent [illegible] of their monthly pay.

In his national appeal, the President requested Ohio's oil industry and the 17,000 convenient gas stations and hundreds of rural tank trucks to receive the rubber and pay you 1c per pound. Or, you may donate your scrap rubber. The oil industry is gladly cooperating with the President and the hundreds of Ohio Salvage Committees.

WHEN. Right away—today, if possible. Time is short. The drive ends June 30 and the more scrap rubber you turn in, the faster it will be put to work to smash the Axis! So start looking right now. Comb the attic, the cellar, the storage closets, the garage, the barn, the vacant lot next door—every place for every bit of rubber.

BOYS, GIRLS, WOMEN, CHURCHES, SCOUTS, CLUBS! You can serve your country, your fellow citizens, your own organization. Search for rubber and turn it in for a cent a pound. Add money to your organization's treasury

WHAT HAPPENS TO THE RUBBER. All scrap rubber collected will be immediately added to our country's vital supply. Gasoline dealers will immediately be reimbursed by the oil companies supplying them, and the rubber will be bought by the Rubber Recovery Corp., a new government unit. Any margin over the penny a pound will go to Army and Navy Relief, the U.S.O. and the Red Cross. Oil companies, with others, will contribute transportation and all costs of picking up and handling, as well as the time of thousands of employees.

Let's go, Ohio . . . get the rubber in!

TO ALL SOHIO DEALERS:

Because of our country's serious rubber situation, President Roosevelt launched the Scrap Rubber Drive with all possible speed. There was no time for detailed planning—the important thing is to get the rubber in.

But, as always, you responded magnificently. You've done a great job and we know that you will continue to do all in your power to make this drive a smashing success. Many of you aren't equipped with scales for weighing the rubber, and will have to guess at it. But we are sure that the people of Ohio will patriotically bear with you and other dealers working under this handicap.

Your company assures you full coopetation by immediately refunding you the cent-a-pound you pay for scrap rubber turned in at your station, in collecting the rubber and in rendering any help you may need.

W. T. HOLLIDAY, President

GREEN SAYS CRISIS CAN BE WORKED OUT

Outlines Early Solution Columbus Dilemma.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—Gov. John W. Bricker today expressed belief that the municipal financial crisis which resulted in the layoff of 500 city employes could be "worked out before long."

He said a citizens' committee was being formed for an early solution and councilmen considered several financing proposals.

One suggested a three per cent sales tax to raise $1,500,000 and thus put back to work 178 policemen, firemen and other employes who had their two weeks' vacation pay cut off Monday.

The "unwanted sales tax," the governor asserted, would be levied and collected by anyone from a chewing gum boy to the family grocer.

Other proposals are "nuisance taxes" which would include assessments for such city services as garbage and refuse collection, and an "encroachment" tax favored by Council President W. Robert Dailey.

Bricker said his proposal called for collection of fees from overhanging signs, awnings, balconies, porches and the passageways over streets, fire escapes, pipelines, wires, driveways, newsstands, loading platforms, spur tracks, areaways, tunnels and curb cutting.

The financial tangle followed the failure of a 2.5 mill levy to raise $500,000 annually for the police and fire departments.

Ohio Men Sentenced On Draft Evasion Charges

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 17—Two Northern Ohio men face four year prison terms today on selective service charges.

Federal Judge Emerich M. Freed yesterday sentenced Roland Allman, 24, of Diamond, Portage county, to four years after Allman claimed deferment as a conscientious objector. His draft board in Youngstown ordered him to report for induction April 9, and he was accused of failing to do so.

Lester Lenhart, 28, of North Lawrence, Stark county, received the other four year sentence. He told Judge Freed that he failed to report Feb. 12 as ordered because he had been "nervous and sick on that date."

Army Battles Enemy Via Radio Program

NEW YORK, June 17—(The World) — Conducted as a regular military operation, the official army hour is battling the enemy as it goes out each Sunday afternoon via NBC. In fact, the enemy has tried on several occasions to break up parts of the programs by "jamming."

Designed to interpret the army to listeners and to keep the fighting men all over the world abreast of the army's widespread activities, the series provides a source of official facts on the progress of the war and how it is being fought. As a military operation, the program is conducted just like a battle maneuver, with official orders and everything.

The show, now in its third month, has related first-hand many of the heroic accomplishments of the men at the front.

Jury of Mountaineers Sentences Child Widow

By The Associated Press

MORRISTOWN, Tenn., June 17—A jury of mountaineers has fixed a 20-year prison sentence for Mattie Pearl Manning, slender 14-year-old child widow, in the pistol slaying of her 35-year-old husband, Damon Manning.

The jury, in less than an hour, convicted the little girl last night of second degree murder after hearing her testify in a low voice:

"I shot him. I thought he was going to shoot me. He threatened to kill me."

Her father, Frank Morgan, 50, was convicted of aiding and abetting in second degree murder and his punishment also was fixed at 20 years in prison. Defense attorneys said a new trial would be sought for Morgan and his daughter.

OPA PREPARED TO ENFORCE LIMA RENTS

Will Intervene Unless Landlords Comply with Ceilings.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—The office of price administration says it is prepared to enforce rent ceilings in Lima, O., unless landlords comply with a voluntary program within a stipulated period.

The city was designated a defense rental area on April 28 and property owners were requested to establish within 60 days from that date ceilings not exceeding rents paid in March 1942.

Unless the recommendation is carried out, the OPA is empowered to appoint a federal controller with broad authority to reduce rents at the end of the 60 day waiting period. Landlords then would be required to register all their property and disclose the rents being paid by tenants.

Officials explained that the purpose of the waiting period was to give local governments a chance to establish fair rent levels without federal jurisdiction.

Urges Americans To Refrain from Idle Talk

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—Col. Frederick George Sutton, member of the Australian military mission, said today that one way American women could help the United Nations win the war was "to refrain from chattering"—and get the menfolk to do the same.

He was backed up in this by Mrs. Jimmy Doolittle, wife of the flier who led the raid on Japan. "There is too much idle talk," she said.

Girl Scouts To Set Up Camp at Indian Mound July 7

Indian Mound is the place and Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from July 7 through July 31 are the dates for the annual Girl Scout Day camp to be conducted under the auspices of the Marion Girl Scout Council, for A Brownie unit is scheduled for each Thursday, the sponsors announce.

The hours each day are from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Days on which the weather will not permit outside camping the session will be held at the Legion Dugout. A special program for parents will be held on Friday afternoon, July 31.

Plans Changed

There are a few changes in the Girl Scout camping plans this season, according to the schedule. There will be no established camp at Camp Owens for Girl Scouts, and the day camping period has been extended to double the usual period. In addition to the extension of the camping period the day camp has been opened to girls of scouting age, whether they are members of Girl Scout troops or not. Because of the discontinuance of the camp at Camp Owens this year girls planning full time camping are being urged to attend other Girl Scout camps.

Girl Scout leaders and program consultants will be on the day camp staff and Miss Edith Treat, Girl Scout director and executive secretary of the council will be camp director. From the time the campers arrive at 10 a. m. until 1 p. m. there will be full time schedules of camp activities. Campers will be in groups, designated as units, with others of similar interests and experience and will make their own plans. Activities will include those best carried out in the out-of-doors such as simple campcraft, hiking, nature lore, outdoor cooking, archery, folk dancing, dramatics, group singing and handicraft. Campers will furnish their own transportation to and from the camp and will provide their own lunches. Milk will be furnished each day by the sponsors.

Lunch Suggestions

Suggested as a "good" lunch is sandwiches, a fresh vegetable, hard boiled egg, and a juicy fruit. After the first day units may plan to cook their noon meal and each camper will bring her share of food.

Suggested as a costume for the well-dressed camper is a camp uniform or play suit (no halters or sunbacks) and sensible hiking shoes. A blanket or sweater is needed for resting. Hand, but not necessarily essential, are a note book and pencil, a purse that fits the belt in case a girl carries money, and the parents' consent blank if not registered at the Girl Scout office.

It is hoped that the Girl Scouts and those who are not members of troops will register at the Girl Scout office at the Little House on East Columbia street before July 1. Not only can a more complete and entertaining program be arranged by knowing how many girls will be attending regularly but the campers may also have the advantage of a flat camping rate of $1 for the period. A straight fee of 10 cents a day will be charged for those not registered. A rate of 10 cents a day will be given the Brownie campers.

To date the following staff members have signed up for camp duty: Mrs. Cecil Gabler and Mrs. James Beal, leaders of Troop 18; Mrs. R. V. Yazel, leader of Troop 9 and a member of the troop committee; Mrs. Charles Dengler and Mrs. Forrest Smith, leaders of Troop 25, and Miss Virginia O'Dowd, leader of Troop 14.

Camp Committee Helps

Cooperating with Miss Treat and the staff members will be the Girl Scout camp committee, Miss Ruth H. Kleinmaier, chairman, Mrs. F. L. Thomas, Mrs. Elmer E. Smith, Mrs. R. G. Donley and Mrs. E. O. Smith, Girl Scout commissioner.

Miss Treat recently returned from Cincinnati where she attended day camp directors camp, National Training school at Camp Butterworth. She has had several summers' experience as a camp counselor and also as a Girl Scout camper. She took her camp counselor's training at the National Training School at Pine Tree Camp, Plymouth, Mass., last year.

Day camping has been a part of the national Girl Scout program since 1921 and of the local Girl Scout program since 1935. The achievement record shows that Marion is in the upper quarter of all councils so far as percentage of girls attending camp, and last year's record brought praise from Emerson Hamilton, a visitor from the national staff whose comment was that "the girls were surely receiving a real camping experience."

The camp site was made available by Charles H. Isaly Camp fees are being distributed to Girl Scouts this week and non-scouts may obtain the folders at the office at 124 East Columbia street.

The nearest established camp is operated by the Columbus council at Galloway, west of that city, the council announces. Accommodations may be obtained for a two weeks' period, preferably Aug. 2-15. Miss Treat will join the camp staff at Galloway if the registration from here warrant it.

FINGERPRINTING OF ALL CITIZENS LIKELY

Congress May Make Universal Plan Compulsory.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—Official disclosure that a big percentage of the nation's population already has been fingerprinted as a result of the war created today a strong possibility that congress would make it mandatory for every man, woman and child in the country.

In testimony made public by the house appropriations committee, S. A. Andretta, an administrative assistant in the department of justice, declared that the FBI had purchased 48,000,000 fingerprint cards this year.

He said the bureau "has continued to receive a tremendous number of records," resulting chiefly from army and navy demands that all employes in war industries be fingerprinted.

The FBI furnished 15,876,273 cards to manufacturers of war materials and 10,000,000 more to the army, all of which, Andretta said, will be returned and placed in the bureau's files upon their execution.

He said fingerprint records were pouring in at the rate of 60,000 a day "and there is every indication that this will be materially increased" with the FBI being required to handle "at least 30,000,000 sets in the very near future."

One legislative leader after studying the figures, declared it was "extremely probable" that congress would act upon mandatory fingerprinting for everyone later this year.

"With the boys in the army and those in the war industries being fingerprinted," he said, "there can be no valid objection from the rest of the population. Besides, it would prove extremely valuable as a civilian defense measure in the event of an aerial attack."

Highway Department Inserts Escape Clauses

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—Because the price of road construction and repair materials has increased from 7½ to 40 per cent this year, the state highway department has inserted "escape clauses" in contracts so that contractors will not be penalized for conditions beyond their control.

Highway Director Hal G. Sours said working designs sometimes are modified when contractors are unable to obtain scarce materials.

URGES OPPOSITION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—Secretary-Treasurer Ted F. Silvey of the Ohio CIO urged the state's congressional delegation by letter to oppose efforts to change by legislation the effective dates of maximum rent orders in Cleveland and Canton, respectively July 1 and April 1. He said real estate interests desire different dates.

U. S. Public Would Pay $40 A Month To Wives of Men Serving in War

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 17—If the United States public were to name the amounts to be paid to wives of soldiers, it would set $40 a month for the wives and $15 per month for each child.

A recent nationwide study by the Gallup Poll shows that the average allotment the people would make for a wife with children virtually runs below provisions of the bill now awaiting ratification.

On the other hand, because of the $15 allotment, the public would make for each child, a wife with two children would receive virtually the same amount allowed in the pending bill. A wife with three children would receive $3 more than the contemplated provides.

In order to test public sentiment on the question, the staff of interviewers for the American Institute of Public Opinion put the question to the voters:

"How much money should an enlisted private's wife, without children, receive to live on?" "How much would you add for each child?"

The results, computed on a national average monthly basis, are:

For wife	$40
For each child	$15

This would allow a total of $55 per month for a wife with one child or $7 less than the congressional bill, which would provide $50 per month from the government and $22 from the husband's pay, with an allowance of $10 per month for the first child and $10 for each additional child. On the other hand, a wife with three children would, according to the public's wishes, get $85, or $3 more than the pending bill allows.

Individual opinions on how much the wife should get were varied. Four per cent of those polled would have her receive nothing. At the other extreme 12 per cent would like to see allotments of $70 per month or more.

Compared With Former Bill

The present bill compares favorably with that of the first world war, when the wife received $15 per month from her husband and $15 more from the government, plus $10 for the first child, $7.50 for the second, and $5 for each additional offspring. This gave a wife with one child only $40 per month, compared to the pending bill's $62.

In Canada, soldiers' wives with one child receive a total of $67 each month, $35 from the government, $20 from the husband, and $12 for each additional child.

Passage of legislation to provide for dependents of draftees has taken on pressing significance because of the army's increasing need for men and the opposition to stepping off the young men in the 18-19 age brackets.

Early in March of this year a Gallup survey showed the U. S. public overwhelmingly in favor of drafting men with dependents once provisions had been made for those left at home.

How Much Money Per Month Should Wife of Soldier Without Children Receive To Live On?

How Much for Each Child?

Having already approved drafting of men with dependents, the people now say how much they think the dependents should receive.

WARNING ISSUED BY STATE DRAFT HEAD

Asserts Local Boards Tiring of Dilatory Tactics.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—State selective service headquarters said today most of the state's 350 draft boards are "fed up" with anonymous upsters and with registrants who "conveniently forget" to inform boards of changes in their work dependency or physical condition.

Col. C. W. Geble, state director, warned that the selective training and service act has teeth to use against recalcitrants.

"In recent months practically all information on changes of status have been received in the form of anonymous letters," said Geble. "Local board members in the face of mounting duties, no longer have the time to check the information in unsigned letters, some of which have proved false or misleading.

"In the future, board members should give consideration only to letters properly signed, or to persons who appear at board office and, upon request, be accorded a hearing. Boards welcome all authentic information, but all members of the selective service system are 'fed up' with the type of citizen who is ashamed to sign his own name to a letter protesting another man's lack of patriotism."

UNFAIR TO LOVE

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

Joe Disappears

WHEN Kathleen opened her eyes, the sunlight was streaming into the room. She sat up and looked at the time. It was eleven o'clock in the morning. She jumped out of bed, and turned on the shower. Half an hour later she walked into the dining room.

The telephone bell rang while Kathleen was having her first cup of coffee. She went to answer it. It was the editor of the Lanville Gazette.

"Is Joe Neely out there, Kathleen?" he asked. "I've been trying to locate him all morning. That crazy Lizzie of yours wouldn't call you to the telephone."

"No," said Kathleen, "of course Joe's not out here."

"Okay. Sorry to have bothered you."

Kathleen went back to her breakfast. She tried to put the matter of Joe's absence from work from her mind. But it was difficult. She kept thinking of their quarrel of the night before—wondering if that had anything to do with Joe's non-appearance at the newspaper office.

Fred DeMille arrived in the midst of her wondering, and worrying, and breakfasting.

"We're calling off 'Goodbye, Honey Child!'," he announced, after he and Kathleen had said their good mornings. "We're going to use one of our old plays during the rest of the week. Sorry your professional appearance was so short-lived, Kathleen, but—"

"Why this sudden decision?" Kathleen asked, amazed at the relief she felt.

Fred chuckled. "We've got to put on a play in which Paul has a less conspicuous part," he said. "The patch on his forehead shows rather plainly—and his chin is swollen."

"Joe's doings," said Kathleen. "He told me." Then she said, trying to speak calmly, "By the way, have you seen Joe today?"

"Yes, I saw him early this morning," said Fred. "He was helping Ruby into his car."

"Where on earth could they be going so early?" Kathleen said, as though speaking to herself. "I should think Ruby would be all worn out after last night."

Fred shook his head. "It puzzles me, to. Maybe Ruby finally made up her mind which she wanted—Joe or your uncle."

Dire Possibility

"You mean it may have been an—an— elopement?"

"Yes," said Fred. "Ruby's got a romantic streak a yard wide." He looked up as Lizzie walked in. "Hello, Lizzie," he said. "Mind if I have a cup of coffee."

Fred got his coffee. He sat drinking it.

"I hope you don't feel too badly about it," he said to Kathleen. "Joe's a swell kid—I know—but with you planning a career, and sort of ditching him, he naturally—"

"I'm not planning a career!" Kathleen cried out. "I hate careers. Fred DeMille. Sometimes I wish you and your old actors had never come to Lanville. I—I—" Words failed her. She caught up her napkin and dabbed at her eyes.

"There, there, Kathleen, my child," exclaimed Fred. "I didn't mean to get you all upset. I'm sorry."

"The idea," Kathleen rushed on. "Ruby Howard is years and years older than Joe—why, it's nothing less than a kidnapping!"

"Maybe so," said Fred thoughtfully. "And yet Joe certainly didn't look a bit unwilling—when I saw them."

"Oh, shut up!" said Kathleen.

Fred got to his feet. "I'll be getting along. If there's anything I can do, just—"

"Will you stop talking as though someone had died!" cried Kathleen.

Fred, somewhat confused softly mumbled "goodbye" and departed.

Kathleen went into the living room. She paced up and down, up and down. "I've been the world's prize idiot!" she told herself. She wanted to cry, and couldn't. She picked up a book. She put it down. The minutes dragged. Finally she went out into the kitchen.

"I don't want any lunch, Lizzie," she said. "I ate breakfast so late. But you'd better fix something for Mr. Frank."

"He ain't comin' home to lunch," said Lizzie. "He et breakfast pow'ful early, an' said not to expect him till this evenin'." He said as how there'd be company for supper, too."

"How many?"

"He didn't say. You know how Mr. Frank likes to drop in with folks to eat, Miss Kathleen."

"Yes, I know," said Kathleen wearily. "Just plan a good meal, Lizzie—and plenty of it."

"Yas'm."

An hour later a garage man telephoned to say that Mr. Frank Vaughan's car was ready.

"I didn't know there was anything wrong with it," said Kathleen.

"Nothing serious," said the man. "Just took a few hours to make some adjustments. Shall I drive it out?"

"No," said Kathleen. "I'll come and get it."

On the way to the garage, she decided to run up and see her uncle. She had to talk to someone, or go crazy. She knew Uncle Frank would understand about Joe, and comfort her, make her feel that her world hadn't really come to an end. She reached the building in which Mr. Frank had his real estate office, and went up the office door, and found it up the stairs. She tried the knob. locked.

Then she noticed a small card stuck in the glass. She bent down to read it. It said: "Gone for the day." She turned away, her heart heavy. Joe gone! Uncle Frank gone! She had never before felt so utterly alone.

She went down to the street again. A short time later she was driving her uncle's car out into the country, wandering in a sort of half-conscious way where Uncle Frank had gone, and how—since he didn't take the car with him.

It was nice in the country. And she drove on and on, faster and faster, as though trying to get away from her thoughts. She stopped at the farm, strolled through the old house, tidying up here and there—but when she saw the barbecue pit, and remembered all her hopes and dreams, she felt sick with an almost overwhelming conglomeration of emotions. She went back to the car, got in, and drove away—faster than she had ever driven before.

When she drove into the driveway of the Vaughan place, she saw Ruby Howard sitting upon the front porch. She barely missed the elm tree that grew near the garage, as she stiffened. "Well, of all the nerve!" she thought. Uncle Frank daring to bring Joe Neely and his useless bride out to her house for supper!

"Hello," she said to Ruby.

"Hello! We've been wondering what had happened to you!"

"Really?" said Kathleen. "I've been doing some wondering myself. So has Joe's boss. He's been wondering why Joe didn't come to work. But—"

"Poor Joe!" said Ruby. "He was in a dilemma. But, you see, my dear—he—"

C. YATES McDANIEL

This is one of a series of articles on Associated Press correspondents covering the war fronts for the Star and Associated Press.

Japanese bombers seem to follow C. Yates McDaniel who ever he goes in search of news for The Associated Press.

At the outbreak of the Civil war in China, he was in Peiping when the Japanese came. He made Chinese embassies in Nanking when they were made. He watched them drop death on Canton, Hankow and Singapore. They bombed the ship on which he was escaping to Java and it took him seven and a half days and 1,200 roundabout miles to reach Batavia. They followed him to Australia, where he now heads AP's bureau at Melbourne.

On-the-Spot Tire Changing

THE people, running true to form and showing considerably more sense than their leaders, are taking nothing about the rubber situation for granted. They are making the most of what they have.

A common sight since tire rationing is on-the-spot tire changing. In the "old days," a motorist with a flat jockeyed his crippled conveyance onto the berm or over to the curb. But no more. When that tell-tale jolt registers its physical and mental impact now, things are arranged in status quo as quickly as possible and kept there. Those last 15 feet and the torturing lurches that go with them can do irreparable damage.

Of course in the "old days" more was at stake than the tire. Life itself was in peril. For the two seconds it might take to use a little caution, many a motorist cheerfully would have knocked an awkwardly situated car off the jack and sent the owner to the hospital away back there when nothing was more important than two seconds. But motorists' manners are getting better in direct ratio to the scarcity of tires. As it used to be in 1906 and for many years thereafter, a man struggling with a flat once more is an object of compassion—a fellow remembering Pearl Harbor in the sweat of his brow. If fate should flatten him at just the right place, he might even hear that old rallying cry of the skeptics, "Whyncha getta horse!"

Our Losses

UNITED STATES losses in retaliatory actions since Dec. 7 have been relatively light. Even the fiasco in the battle of Java was perhaps not too great a price to pay under the circumstances.

In the battle of Midway and the battle of the Coral sea, Japan clearly lost more than it could afford to lose. Then there was the now famous raid led by Gen. Doolittle against Japanese cities without loss of a single United States plane.

The key to the successful counter-blows following Japan's attack at Pearl Harbor has been the element of surprise. The Japanese were robbed of the advantage of initiative. Even in the attack on Midway, which came perilously close to being a success, the Japanese were upset by a counter-blow that they weren't prepared to receive. From the standpoint of life and equipment, the United States cannot afford to fight anything but an offensive war, with surprise working for it, instead of against it. Our losses will be bearable as long as the enemy's losses are greater.

The People's Choice

FORMER Ambassador James W. Gerard's recent comment that after the war it may be impossible to protect the German people from the revenge of those who hate them now more than ever raises a ticklish question. Why should anyone want to protect the German people from the revenge of the Poles, the Czechs, the Yugoslavs, the Jews—and the other victims of their cruelty?

The obvious answer is that the German people weren't to blame for what happened. They, themselves, were victims of the barbarians who came into power in 1933. They had no responsibility for Hitler and his street fighters. It would be unjust, therefore, to punish a whole population for the killer antics of a minority.

The answer is not believable. It is not believable because Hitler climbed to power on Germany's enthusiasm for military conquest. He was a politician. The things he preached were shrewdly chosen for popular appeal. He promised the people what they wanted—a revival of militarism. They got what they wanted. They got what they wanted under Kaiser Wilhelm. Because they were unwilling to take the consequences of their blood lust in 1914, they embarked on a new adventure in 1939. They knew what they were doing. Hitler was the people's choice.

Of course that doesn't mean they can be punished, because the only way to do it properly would be to loose in their enemies the same barbarism that has darkened the world twice in one generation. Two wrongs don't make a right. If it is wrong for the Germans to murder Czechs because the Czechs are accused of murdering Heydrich the Hangman, then it would be wrong to let Poles murder Germans. The Germans must be forgiven again. There is only one comfort. This time the war they started has been carried to their own doorsteps, and as some British spokesmen said the other day, mass bombing hasn't really been tried yet. If and when 10,000 planes a night can teach Germany, their punishment will be more dreadful than even their own militarists dared imagine war ever could be.

News Behind the News

Threat of Allied Invasion Forces Hitler To Keep Guard in Western Europe.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The Anglo-American threat to invade Europe has caused Hitler to keep half a million of his best troops in France and the Low Countries, and has stopped a million more in central Germany as ready reserves.

As soon as Britain is able to put a thousand planes over the French coast every night, the promised show is ready to fall.

The logical military way to go about it is to force the Nazis to call defense continuously each night until they are soft enough for invasion, and then to turn the bombers upon the German railroads before the 6 million reserves can be brought up.

Air superiority of some such overwhelming nature is an obvious prerequisite to fulfillment of the Anglo-American promise to create such a second front this year. But this requirement will not hold if Hitler starts weakening his Russian front defenses to bolster his European line. The moment he does that, the British may logically move in on him.

Thus the announced threat serves the purpose of the great aid to Russia even now.

U. S. Asks Why

Many Americans are asking why the British have not established this front before. With the only large inactive army of this war concentrated on its small island for nearly two years, the London explanation that there is insufficient shipping is hardly convincing, as barges could do the job and the British have a navy.

The answer may be found in the air where most of the answers in this war have been supplied. The Germans could not invade Britain after Dunkirk because they were unable to obtain sufficient mastery of the air.

Up to the bombing of Cologne, the British had not been able to show any ability to manipulate the clouds over the continent, and even Cologne did not show enough.

They must do that every night before invasion can have reasonable military prospects of success. They should be able to fulfill the promise before the end of the year.

Island Training Ground

The American public seems to suspect large American troop concentrations have been amassed in Ireland. Actually only four convoys have been sent over as officially announced. What the British need to make a second front is not land troops but air reinforcements.

Meanwhile Ireland serves as a good place for training American troops, in view of the crowded condition of American training camps. Also these troops can receive desert training for fighting in Libya and Italy.

The landings in Ireland therefore do not necessarily forecast immediate invasion.

Red Story Confusing

Confusing accounts of the fighting have come out of Russia. Every time the Nazis have attacked any place the last two months, Moscow has indicated the Nazi spring drive was on.

Hitler has been working with unusual deliberation to clear up three points of his line before ramming his massed power, in final desperation, at the Donets basin and Rostov.

He has been trying to clear the Crimea at Sevastopol and to straighten out his long circular line at Kharkov, as necessary preparations for his big effort. Both actions are designed to shorten his front and relieve troops for the main bout.

There seems to be no secret as to where his power is massed or where it will strike. It is centered between Kharkov and Rostov and its objective is Rostov, Stalingrad and the Caucasus oil fields.

The third part of his deliberate plan, as so far developed, is to capture Kronstadt and, if possible, Leningrad in the north. With Kronstadt gone, the Russian Baltic fleet would have no place to land. If Leningrad can be captured, Hitler might work up to the Murmansk railroad and eliminate the main line of allied supplies into Russia.

This northern side-show could be continued after the big southern drive starts, but the outcome at Kharkov and Sevastopol should be evident before the Germans open their big southern push east.

Rommel Is Tricky

The tricky Rommel has slipped out of more British traps than anyone since George Washington. The British still have some supremacy of the air, tanks and ground troops, and yet betting has been running only 50-50 here lately that they will keep the only successful Nazi general out of Tobruk.

So far the British have lost more tanks than the Germans, but their dwindling tank superiority will be greatly strenghtened if the fighting can be continued a while. Their repair facilities are slower than the Germans.

Loss of Tobruk would dangerously influence the Mediterranean situation by removing that advanced air and sea base for Malta and supply center for the naval line back to Alexandria.

EUGENE, Ore.—There's an alumnus of the University of Oregon here of whom officials aren't the least bit proud.

They call him "Yoshi the Yokel of Yokohama." Also there are other names, unprintable for any occasion.

The University rolls shows that Charles Hisao Yoshii graduated in 1934. He went to Japan shortly thereafter and enrolled in the Tokyo Imperial university as a graduate student. After months of diligent study, he was sufficiently steeped in Japanese nationalism to be declared a "success" as a radio announcer.

Now this "Lord Hee Hee of Japan" is the English voice on the regular Japanese overseas programs heard nightly on the Pacific coast.

Apparently the Japanese like the ludicrous utterances of this native of Banks, Oregon's strawberry-growing country. His work for the broadcasting corporation of Japan's foreign division earned him praise in 1938. The government's controller, Nicki Nishi wrote an extensive article praising his "fine work," and attached to him the name of "Japan's Radio Spokesman."

"It is imperative that a man speaking for the Japanese nation to the English speaking world have the perfect understanding and command of the English language of the country of which Mr. Yoshii so possesses," wrote the magazine.

The U. of O. egon alumnus either hasn't forgotten that another alumnus, Yosuke Matsuoka, ex-foreign minister of Japan, also was caused the university considerable embarrassment.

In 1937, the Portland unit of the U. of O. Alumni association heckled Matsuoka was the alumnus of the year," and said a plot was made to bomb Mr. Matsuoka was sent to Tokyo by the association. He was royally feted and next time Matsuoka came to Oregon, he made a speech at the university.

Nicolai Lenine, head of the Russian Soviet government, suffered a second paralytic stroke and underwent an operation for removal of part of his spinal cord. Some Russian leaders maintained that the bullet of a would-be assassin was the cause of the Soviet leader's critical condition while an anti-German group insisted that his illness was brought on by an operation performed by German surgeons.

Cookie Jar Popular

POCATELLO, Idaho.—It took a mother to figure out that the shortest way to a soldier's heart leads through the cookie jar.

So Mrs. W. B. Harris and other members of the Pocatello American Legion Auxiliary have been distributing home made cookies to soldiers on troop trains passing through the busy railroad center.

They have handed out four thousand dozen cookies in the last nine weeks and letters of appreciation have come back from as far away as Australia.

Findland in the Middle

Revenge Against Russia Saddles Nation with Axis.

By HERMAN ALLEN

MUCH against the pleadings of the U. S. state department, Finland threw in with the Germans last fall to get revenge against Russia. Things were going well for the Nazis then, and the Finns thought the campaign would be a breeze.

But it hasn't worked out that way a relinble diplomatic contact analyzes Finland's plight.

Much as the Finns might like to shake the Nazis, they seem to be stuck with them. The Nazis have two big clubs over Finland—food and Russia.

Finnish agriculture has gone to pot. Not only are thousands of Finnish farmers serving at the front, but crops were bad last year and don't look good this year. Only about half the plowing was completed last fall; then there was an early thaw this spring followed by a killing cold spell. Sweden, which has been supplying part of Finland's wants, has a poor crop outlook, too.

Get Some Booty

Germany has been making up part of the lack in Finnish grain and dairy products by shipping in part of the booty she has taken from the Balkans, western Europe and Scandinavia. But the booty came from the looted fat cow reserves and won't hold out much longer. And Hitler in a recent speech, spoke of another winter campaign.

Meager as the food supply is, it's still a powerful persuader, but the real weapon the Germans hold is the Finns' fear of Russia.

"That," said this diplomatic source, "is what is keeping them awake nights. Without German support, Finland couldn't hope to withstand Russia for long, especially with Russia receiving heavy supplies from America and Britain."

Germany might try to occupy Finland if the Finns pull out of the war, but it's doubtful they could get there before the Russians. Actually, the Germans need Finnish help badly. A third of the Russian front, paralleling the vital Murmansk-Moscow railroad, over which flow American supplies, faces Finland, and Secretary Hull described Hitler's visit to Baron Mannerheim as "a desperate attempt to induce Finland to make further contributions to the Axis military campaign."

The Seat Is Hot

Finland may be damned for the present if she does abandon Germany, but she's doubly damned in the long run if she doesn't. When the United Nations beat Hitler, Finland must certainly go tumbling after in short order. And she can hardly expect very generous treatment at the peace table, especially where Russia is concerned, if she has stuck to Germany to the bitter end. Even sooner than that, Finland may find herself invaded by British troops from the north—possibly even by American troops if the U. S. should declare war on her. It is coming home to Helsinki now that the U. S. state department knew what it was talking about when it tried to keep the Finns away from Germany.

It is not likely, this diplomatic source said, that Finland would actually join up with the United Nations if she abandoned Germany. The Finns may not be warm pro-Nazis, but they are violently anti-Russian.

Whatever happens, Finland has little to look forward to. Even if she quits the Nazis, she won't come to the peace table with such clean hands as Norway or Greece, who have brilliant anti-Nazi records from the very start.

Veterans of This War Should Get Year's Pay When Fighting Is Over and They Return Home

By DAMON RUNYON

I BELIEVE that terminating the pay of [illegible] and providing [illegible] would demoralize many of the [illegible] that confront [illegible] men [illegible] life to [illegible] of the [illegible] My first suggestion [illegible] matter [illegible] for a discussion of the [illegible] but reflection [illegible] that [illegible] would not be too [illegible] It would be more [illegible] readjustment or demobilization of the former [illegible] were I to demand [illegible] on in spite [illegible] someone's pay now provided for in law before congress and which will [illegible] greatest peace pay in the world, as you [illegible] citizens of the United States.

In the course of time, the service [illegible] this war would probably get the bonus [illegible] it might be a long drawn out struggle [illegible] was for veterans of the World war. In [illegible] many cases the reward would arrive too [illegible] My plan would give the boys the money [illegible] it will be needed most and do away [illegible] keeping in future years.

Moreover, it would lessen the burden [illegible] vast lump sum on another generation [illegible] payers, which will have plenty to [illegible] as it is. Most important of all it would give [illegible] discharged soldiers and sailors time to readjust themselves to the conditions of civil life [illegible] and undue worry as to hooking onto a job at once.

THERE is no more trying period in a man's life than the months following discharge from the service after a war.

He is likely to be mentally confused and ill at ease. Things are new, things are different. It takes time for him to get back into the swing of civilian existence. When he is cast off with a few dollars and has no reserve [illegible] and no prospect of a job he becomes restless and sometimes bitter.

It is idle to say that the jobs the men left to go to war will be waiting for them on their return. It has been my observation of the aftermath of two wars that the percentage of jobs recovered by service men is extremely small. The fellows who for one reason or another manage to dodge service seem to have amazing faculty for nailing down the jobs permanently.

Another thing, they resent the very presence of the former soldiers. This is perhaps a matter of conscience. The civilian population generally is always eager to forget war and the returning service man soon finds himself ensconced in the background of events. Without any more money than the pittance handed him on his discharge he runs into the problem of room and board in a short time.

I SUPPOSE a ceiling should be put on the amount paid the lads after discharge, perhaps some compromise figure between the lowest and the highest sum paid enlisted men, but that is a detail to be worked out later. Of course it is my idea that officers should be included in the scheme, because officers can be just as badly broke as enlisted men after a war.

I know that the first criticism of my plan will be the continued load on the taxpayers, but it must be remembered that victory will come only through the patriotic spirit and valor of our fighting men, without which the load will be a hundred times heavier. It will be little enough to give these men the opportunity of making a new start in civil life. Cash can do it.

The money that was made out of our other wars by men who never saw an hour of service would have financed the boys who fought the battles for a long time after their discharge. I will be surprised if that is not also true of this war.

There is no adequate reward in mere money for the sacrifice that the servicemen in this war are now making and will continue to make. Let us show them that republics are not always ungrateful.

Swiss Labor of Love

(From Switzerland Information Bureau)

Swiss aid for Europe's child victims of war is being expanded. Immediate object of a collection drive now in progress is increase from 2,500 to 10,000 the number of children to be taken care of in Switzerland at one time. For a period of three months either in private homes or in special centers these innocent victims of the war are to be given nourishing food, proper medical attention and adequate clothing.

Until recently only French and Belgian victims were accepted for vacations in Switzerland, but the new plan includes "all children accessible," beginning with several hundred from Jugoslavia. French children are also alternately from occupied and unoccupied France.

A campaign for giving help to French children afflicted by war was started years ago by a Swiss welfare society specially organized for this purpose. This has already done remarkable work, because both in foreign countries and in Switzerland through its children's homes, farms, baby welfare stations, foster-home system, and through the taking into Switzerland of war-victimized children for vacations of approximately three months each. Scores of thousands of youngsters have been helped in this manner.

With the full sanction of the Swiss federal council, the new program is now being carried out by the Swiss Red Cross. It provides for a grand total of 40,000 child victims of the war to be cared for in Switzerland at one time. Vacation and recuperation periods, with expenses for this particular charity totaling approximately 10 million Swiss francs. It is expected that about half of this sum will be obtained through public collections, the remainder may finally have to be assumed by the federal government.

The Swiss people bear 75 per cent of the expenses and do all the work connected with activities of the Central Information Agency for Prisoners of War maintained by the International Red Cross committee at Geneva. This labor of love has assumed such overwhelming proportions that auxiliary agencies are functioning throughout Switzerland. The Swiss people have to contribute to the National Fund which realized about 12 million Swiss francs last year moreover, annual collections for the aged, for the sick, for youth, for winter help and other benefits.

The war children generally arrive in an undernourished condition and poorly clothed. If they are to spend their vacations in homes in German-speaking Switzerland it is taken that the hosts also possess a knowledge of French. This helps to avoid homesickness. Since the Swiss do not know the Serbian language, the Yugoslav children have been placed in summer camps in the Italian-speaking canton of Ticino.

The British said three weeks of fierce battling across the broiling desert sands had depleted the strength of United States-built "General Grant" tanks, forcing the British to fall back on older-type reserve tanks.

TRANSFER OF WMRN CONTROL APPROVED

Stock Sale Permit Granted by Federal Commission.

Application for transfer of the controlling interest in Marion radio station WMRN from Frank E. Mason and Ellen Mason of New York City to Howard F. Guthery and his wife, Florette Guthery, of Marion, was granted today by the federal communications commission, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

The change in control will be effected by a stock transfer. Mr. Mason is vice president of the National Broadcasting Co. and is a brother of Robert T. Mason of Marion, president and treasurer of WMRN.

Mr. Guthery, a Marion attorney, was out of the city today but Mr. Mason, the station manager said the change in control would not mean any change in policy or present management of the station.

Robert T. Mason said the commission's action would be followed by actual transfer of control within a short time. The transaction, reported by The Associated Press to involve $13,000, will give Mr. and Mrs. Guthery 65 per cent of the stock. Robert T. Mason has held the other 35 per cent.

Frank E. Mason is on leave from the NBC as special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Knox.

PRESIDENT CRITICAL OF MORAL LAXITY

Urges Vice Elimination from Defense Areas.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — President Roosevelt called on the nation today to engage in a concerted drive for "total physical and moral fitness," with particular emphasis on elimination of "redlight" districts in war industry areas.

In a letter to Paul V. McNutt, director of the office of defense health and welfare, the President declared that such districts contributed a major part of the venereal disease infection found in army camps and naval stations.

Asserting the interdepartmental committee on venereal disease "has made splendid progress in eliminating" these, the President said the campaign must be extended to industrial areas, with the full cooperation of federal, state and local governments, business and industry, the medical profession, schools, and churches.

In urging united emphasis on the moral and physical fitness drive, the President observed that "this is one effort in which every man, woman, and child can play his part and share in ultimate victory."

"This job depends ultimately upon the people themselves and their moral fibre," he said.

McNutt sent copies of the letter to some 8,500 key executives in war production plants, citing the "millions of lost work days" in industry and describing venereal disease as one of the most menacing hazards to the health of workers.

REPORT FRENCHMEN HELD AS HOSTAGES

Authorities Require Wheat Delivery Before Release.

By The Associated Press

VICHY, June 17—An unspecified number of peasants were reported today being held as hostages in Laon province. Reports by the Nazi and federal gendarmerie said sufficient wheat delivered from their farms to conform to regulations.

The peasants, the reports said, were seized after they refused to hand over their wheat.

With the food situation becoming more serious, the official journal today published a decree providing penalties of up to ten years' imprisonment and fines of 5,000,000 francs (about $115,000 at the fixed official rate of exchange) for persons who willfully permit foodstuffs to perish. Penalties up to three years imprisonment and fines of 100,000 francs (about $2,300) were fixed for persons guilty of allowing foodstuffs to perish through negligence.

French and Belgian authorities, it was reported, have agreed that seasonal Belgian workers in France be paid partly in grain and other foodstuffs. Belgian workers returning home will be allowed to take back 100 pounds of food, mostly bread, while those who work in the sugar beet fields will get an extra sugar allowance.

The French, the report said, have also agreed to deliver 150,000 tons of molasses and 1,000 tons of fruit to Belgium in return for Belgian manpower.

Paris newspapers today ran announcements calling on Frenchmen to sign up for work in Germany.

Gandhi's Threat Causes Uneasiness Among Allies

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Mohandas Gandhi's declaration that he soon will launch against British rule in India a movement which "will be felt by the whole world" is causing uneasiness among those who have some understanding of political conditions in that great empire of 400,000,000 people.

The Mahatma doesn't specify what form this movement will take. Gandhi never has been given to exaggeration, and his statement that he is going to ask "the whole world" shouldn't be taken too lightly.

Observers in New Delhi believe he may be planning a deliberate clash with the British, bringing about the jail sentence and hunger strike which he has made famous around the globe. Some in America take the speculation a step further and express fear that he may be forcing the issue in order to bring the people once more into civil disobedience.

Can Be Terrible Weapon

That can be a terrible weapon under any circumstances. In the midst of a war like this such a development might mean catastrophe, especially since the possibility of Japanese invasion of India hasn't been removed, and in any event the allies are depending heavily on Hindustan to help defeat the axis.

Civil disobedience as conceived by Gandhi means "peaceful resistance" to all governmental authority. In the past it has involved boycotts of British-made goods, withdrawal of pupils from government schools and the ignoring of all government services, including legislatures, courts and tax officials. Such a program would be absolutely paralyzing if followed by the entire population, but the vast religious, political, social and racial divisions among the people always have prevented unity.

Under Gandhi's plan of operation civil disobedience is calculated to be wholly non-violent. He doesn't believe in using force even to prevent the invasion of his country by the Japs. In past experiments with this volcanic idea, however, he has been unable to control the machine once he got it rolling. Non-violence has given way to violence, and there have been widespread disorders and bloodshed.

Whether Gandhi could make civil disobedience universal today, any more than previously, is doubtful but there is small question that he could cause grave difficulties. Such a development might be the magnet which would draw a Japanese invasion. It might also disrupt war industry in this great allied arsenal.

Seek U. S. Support

Indian Nationalists have been seeking support in America for their demand that Britain withdraw from Hindustan altogether. A pretty problem would be raised for any American sympathy if the Nationalists should inaugurate a program detrimental to the war effort. The differences between India and Britain cease to be a private matter when they intrude on the trend of this world war upon which the security of so many nations depends.

The allies haven't hesitated to crack down on Vichy, or occupy French territory, when such action was necessary to the welfare of the general cause. It is legitimate therefore to raise the question of whether the allies would stand idly by while a civil disobedience campaign or any similar development in India threatened to make a present of victory to the axis powers.

AXIS U-BOATS SINK TWO MORE U. S. SHIPS

Bold Daylight Attack Made in Atlantic and Gulf.

By The Associated Press

A brazen daylight attack upon two American merchantmen within sight of thousands of vacationers at a Virginia beach resort and another thrust into the Gulf of Mexico have brought the announced total of Atlantic submarine victims to 27.

Latest forays by undersea raiders were announced yesterday by the navy. One of the two ships torpedoed off the Virginia shore was sunk. The other was towed into port.

The double attack occurred Monday under the eyes of beach crowds who watched bombing planes, a navy blimp and half a dozen surface craft drop bombs and depth charges in an effort to sink the marauder, the fate of which was not announced by the navy.

Striking in the Gulf, an Axis submarine sent to the bottom another medium-sized U. S. ship, and while 30 survivors made port safely 14 seamen were killed, including four members of a naval gun crew who perished at their guns.

Sinkings announced this week stand today at nine, two more than the announced total in the Eastern Pacific since Pearl Harbor.

BOY MENTALLY SICK, MOTHER DECLARES

Slayer of Step-Father Suffered Thyroid Defect.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—Roland Richard Steadman Thompson, 16, was a "mentally sick" boy when he shot and killed his stepfather, Dr. Charles R. Owens, 37, Ohio State university chemical engineering instructor, the youth's mother tearfully related in an interview last night.

Dr. Owens was slain by a .32 caliber revolver bullet in his laboratory-classroom last Thursday. The stepson confessed the shooting to assistant Prosecutor William Bryant after a policeman arrested him on the university campus.

"'Stead' has been a worry to me for quite some time," said Mrs. Owens. She added that she took the 217-pound boy to the university psychological clinic for examination and to several physicians in recent years for treatment for a thyroid gland defect.

Conspicuously large among children of his age, the boy became sensitive and shy, said the mother, and sought escape in books.

The son contended he shot Dr. Owens because the educator insisted that he seek vacation-period employment. Mrs. Owens commented:

"It was that fear of people, that unwillingness to face any situation he wasn't fully prepared to meet that made him unwilling to look for work. But he mistakenly blamed Charles. It had been my idea, because I thought it would be good for him to force him to look for a job."

1,000 SMALL SHIPS ON NAVY PROGRAM

Wood To Be Used Extensively in Construction.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—In a war of metals, wood took a new and important place today for use in construction of small patrol craft to combat the submarine menace and protect vital coastwise shipping.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the naval committee disclosed that a big percentage of the 1,000 small craft envisioned in the navy's $8,000,000,000 fleet expansion program would be made of wood.

While the plications for the 1,000 small vessels came as one of the navy's answers to the submarine menace, the greater part of the vast expansion program was devoted to the philosophy of attack.

To carry out that philosophy, Vinson said the navy planned to concentrate on construction of fleet units since the Midway Island and Coral Sea engagements demonstrated they were "the backbone of the fleet."

Use of wood for patrol boats would serve the triple purposes of holding down costs, speeding construction of light, fast craft, and preserving metal for other uses.

Moreover, Vinson reported that hundreds of smaller craft would be built inland, with the probability that the navy was contemplating widespread development of the Great Lakes boat building facilities.

He said the navy had become so convinced of the importance of air supremacy that there had been a "deferment" of work on four of the battleships to make ways available for earlier construction this year.

The new measure, which won the naval committee's approval yesterday, called for 900,000 tons of aircraft carriers, 500,000 tons of light and heavy cruisers and 500,000 tons of destroyers and destroyer escort vessels, in addition to the 1,000 small craft.

Vinson emphasized that the concentration on carriers did not signal the end of battleships, ever regarded as the mainstay of the navy. "As long as other nations have them," he said, "we must have them, too," he said.

The bill probably will reach the floor for action either later this week or early next week.

"Crucial" Series

And [illegible] another chance out of the same [illegible] might be pointed out that the Red Sox, over in the American league also can still make trouble, even if the New York Yankees are bounding along on a nine-game lead after splitting their five-hour twin bill with Detroit yesterday. The Red Sox knocked off St. Louis 4-2 last night to run their winning streak to nine in a row.

The Brooklyns were idle yesterday as the Cards started their eastern swing against the New Yorkers.

Yanks, Tigers Split

Over in the American league, the Yanks and Tigers put on something new — starting a double-header in Detroit at 3 p. m. The Bronx boys blew the first game 7-6 on Rudy York's 14th homer of the year and Jimmy Bloodworth's eighth. Fireman Johnny Murphy arrived with his hook-and-ladder curve and gave the Yanks a 5-3 decision in the nightcap.

Completing the American league picture, Rookie Orval Grove and husky Bob Harris hooked up in a tight tussle at Chicago under the lights, and Grove won out 2-1 as the White Sox nipped the Athletics on a ninth-inning run to climb into sixth

120 Golfers Play in Hale America Opening Thursday

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 17—The [illegible] Ridgemoor club course got a final preliminary going-over today as the nation's golf stars completed their practice for the 72-hole Hale America benefit tournament starting tomorrow. The winner takes down $1,100.

From early morning to dusk the more than 100 selected linksmen were scheduled to dissect the 6518-yard layout in preparation for the four-day tournament. All, incidentally, will go the full distance, with no reduction of the field at the half way point as is customary in medal tournaments.

Captain Bobby Jones of the air corps and Bob Hope of the air lanes were to play a special 18-hole exhibition match today.

Practically all the big stars were present, the one prominent exception being Sammy Snead, the Professional Golfers' Association champion. Sam is in the navy.

NEW YORK, June 17—Advance sale for the national A. A. U. track championships, which Dallas gave up because that $8,500 guarantee looked so big in these times, is around the $30,000 mark and going right up . . About $60,000 worth of program ads already have been sold, so it looks as if there wouldn't be much trouble passing the $100,000 set as the goal for the meet . . Larry MacPhail has served notice on Dodger fans that tickets bought from speculators will be refused at the gates . . If anybody collects a "service charge," Larry wants to do it himself . . A Soft Answer Turneth Ire.—When Jack Zeller, the Tigers' general manager, began scouting around for another catcher in case the army should accept Birdie Tebbetts, he struck on the idea that the Braves might be persuaded to part with Ernie Lombardi . . You see, Lom is Class 1-A in the draft." . . . Zeller wrote off the dinner as a bad investment.

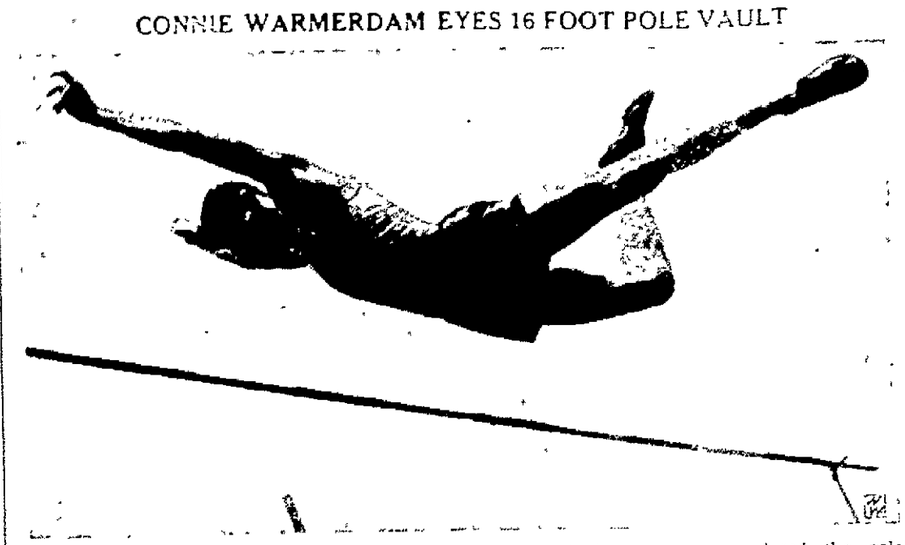
CONNIE WARMERDAM EYES 16 FOOT POLE VAULT



Cornelius Warmerdam, the Piedmont, Cal., school teacher, who has baffled track coaches, teammates and fans alike by his uncanny ability to spring into the stratosphere for leaps of 15 feet and more, demonstrates perfect form in clearing 15 feet in the above picture. Less than a year ago many of the nation's top coaches placed the pole vault ceiling at 15 feet, but that was before Connie. In the last half dozen months he has cleared the 15-foot mark 24 times. His recent leap of 15 feet 7¾ inches has been recognized as a world's record. His goal is 16 feet and far less than a majority of the cinder sport's followers doubt whether the slightly built Californian will achieve his goal.

Decisions Dellicurti in New York Encounter.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 17—Middleweight George (Sonny) Horne of Niles, O., kept his unbeaten string of victories intact in his 18th pro encounter last night.

He won a decision over Vic Dellicurti, New York veteran, in a six round bout. The go was trimmed from a scheduled eight rounds on a state boxing commission ruling that Horne, 18 years old, was too young to engage in an eight-rounder. Horne weighed 152½ to Dellicurti's 152½.

George Kochan, 151, Akron, won over Larney Moore, 149, Hempstead, N. Y., by a technical knockout in the seventh frame of their scheduled eight round tiff.

Bob Wright Paces Big 10 Star To Win Over Western Tea

Buckeye Flash Wins Both Hurdles; Hal Davis Se Two New Meet Records; Warmerdam Fails.

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., June 17—Big Ten athletes upset their Pacific Coast foes last night to break for the first time the track mastery the westerners have enjoyed in the six years the two conferences have been meeting.

Fresh from dominations the National Inter-collegiate meet [illegible] Lincoln, Neb., the best the [illegible] boys could do was capture [illegible] places in six of the 15 events [illegible] Southern California, the N. C. A. champion, winning two of them.

The point totals were 69 [illegible] 57 1-3 in favor of the Big [illegible] which never before had [illegible] within 24 points of winning. The Big Ten took all three places in the discus throw while the [illegible] stars slammed the shotput [illegible].

There were two double winners. California's Hal Davis won the 100-yard dash in 9.5 and the [illegible] in 20.4, both new meet records, and Ohio State's Bob Wright won both hurdles. He set a record of 24 seconds flat in the 12-[illegible] highs. Other records were threatened.

Only one of the meet's [illegible] exhibition performances was successful. Dwight Eddleman, [illegible] Ill., prep high [illegible] cleared 6 feet, 6 inches, [illegible] above the collegiate best. Great Lakes Naval Training [illegible] mile relay team finished as the road quartet won. Cornelius Warmerdam failed in three attempts to clear 15 feet the pole vault.

Suffering from a twisted ankle suffered in a New [illegible] charity show Sunday, Warmerdam had to settle for a 14-foot inch performance.

COUNCIL HEARS POOL REPORT

Bucyrus Officials Told 3,001 Tickets Sold in First 15 Days.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 17 — Bucyrus city council heard a financial report of the new municipal swimming pool for the first two weeks of its operations, passed emergency legislation giving the go ahead to government construction of water lines to service the camp at the county fairgrounds and authorized city milk inspection in a three and a half hour session Tuesday night.

A total of 3,001 tickets were sold in the first 15 days the swimming pool was in operation with total receipts of $1,785.95, Carl Light, chairman of the park board reported. In addition to accepting the financial report, a recommendation that a sidewalk be constructed around the two sides and the front of the bath house was accepted and the park committee authorized to go ahead with construction. Recommendation that a roadway be constructed from the ford across the river to the south side of the park, was not accepted at this time for financial reasons.

Terminating a lengthy discussion, council approved by a vote of four to three a motion to provide $25 a month expense money for the county sanitary engineer to make a city milk inspection. Recommendation that the expense allowance be made was offered by City Health Commissioner, Dr. W. G. Carlisle, who advised that no milk would be purchased by the army at the fairgrounds unless it was properly inspected. Councilman James Kehrer reported that a $600 milk contract with a local dairy had been terminated by army order and the milk contract given to a Mansfield company, because the necessary inspection had not been made.

Emergency legislation authorizing the service director to enter into a contract for the construction of water lines connecting two dead ends at the fairgrounds to provide adequate water to the camp was authorized by council after Capt. Blyle, construction engineer appeared and made a proposal for the work. By terms of the contract the city will pay approximately $1,800 for laying the lines. The government will provide the material.

Kenton Council Seeks New Revenue Sources

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., June 17—Kenton city council, puzzled by lowered receipts and mounting expenses, today called a special meeting for next Monday evening to consider methods of operating within income.

City Auditor Ralph E. Yauger read a report indicating that receipts to date this year are $3,500 lower than in the same period of 1941, and listed an unpaid street lighting bill of $2,451.31 for March, April and May. He said lights may be shut off, other services including operation of a South Kenton fire department might be curtailed, or a special levy enacted. A proposal to license the city's approximate 1,400 bicycles at $1 a year is being considered as one means of obtaining revenue.

MORROW CO. DISTRICT TO BE TRANSFERRED

Township School Area To Be Included in Ashley.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, June 17—A large part of the Westfield township school district will be transferred from the Cardington to the Ashley school district as a result of the refusal of the state supreme court to review the case in which the property owners petitioned for transfer.

The case was taken to the courts when the Morrow county board of education refused to make the transfer after alleging that petitions filed were inadequate and irregular. The Morrow county common pleas court, after reviewing the case, held that the petitions were in order and issued a mandatory order to the board of education to make the transfer.

The decision of the court was upheld by the district appellate court and in a recent action the supreme court refused to review the case.

The old Westfield district, including a large part of Westfield township, was transferred to the Cardington district several years ago when the one-room schools there were abandoned. Because some of the territory is close to the Ashley schools, efforts have been made for several years to have it included in that district.

MARKET GAINS SMALL TODAY

Buying Lacks Force But Adds Fractions to Most Leaders.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 17—Small gains ruled generally through today's stock market.

Buying had no particular force but there was enough to add fractions to prices of most leaders. Brokers reported trading contracted because of renewed anxieties over the position of the British in Libya and the Russians at Sevastopol.

Holding modest advances were American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck and Dupont. International Minerals & Chemical preferred and common registered new high for the year. National Distillers also made a new 1942 top.

Heaviness marked a few issues, notably Liggett & Myers "B", Postal Telegraph preferred and Detroit Edison.

To some Wall street observers it appeared that the immediate international picture did not blend harmoniously with the financial sector's recent hopefulness on the chances of an early ending of the war. But as the bulletins indicated more determined Axis thrusts in Libya and in the Russian zones, market followers were able to gain a little comfort from domestic happenings.

Helping to spread a bit of cheer in financial circles was the prediction of Emil Schram, stock exchange president, that the country's private capital markets would see a revival "probably earlier than many of us expect."

As to post-war conditions Schram declared "our enterprise system will require our capital markets more so than ever before in the great work of reconstruction and transportation."

Detroit Concern Leases Delaware Plant Space

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, June 17 — Leasing of the first floor of the Delaware chair factory building to the John Johnson Co. of Detroit, a canvas manufacturing concern, was announced yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce.

Signing of the lease closed several months of negotiations to bring the Detroit concern to Delaware.

An established firm which has operated in Detroit for more than 50 years, expansion was made necessary when large government contracts for tarpaulins for army trucks and other equipment were obtained within the last year.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D

Gallbladder Treatment

WE HAVE SPOKEN in the last two articles this week of the causes and the nature of gallbladder disease. Most of this we have found to be infection due to the constant stream of bacteria and toxins which come through the portal stream through the intestine into the liver. Gallbladder disease is extremely very common and about 40 per cent of all adults have some degree of it, ranging from a mild catarrhal inflammation of the gallbladder to actual gallstones.

As we said, also, the manifestations of gallbladder disease are mostly dyspepsia, such as lack of appetite, discomfort after meals, especially formation of gas and belching. The severe cases of gallstone colic with pain and jaundice are greatly in the minority.

What to do about a given case depends on the judgment of the physician. It is always possible to operate on these cases when the attacks become enough to interfere with daily comfort and daily health, but it is also true that many of them go on for many years causing very little trouble. For instance, in a series of cases reported to the American Medical Association, 37 per cent of chronic cases had satisfactory relief over an average of more than eight years without an operation.

In the management of these cases the diet should receive the utmost consideration. In the first place, we know—as pointed out in an earlier article this week—that a fat diet will empty the gallbladder and since most of its trouble is due to the retention of infective material, the use of the yolk of an egg or toast heavily coated with butter once or twice a day will drain a mildly infected gallbladder as well as anything else.

Incidentally, it is also known that many of the cathartic salts will drain the gallbladder and a small dose of phosphate of soda in a half-glass of water in the morning before breakfast has a very beneficial effect. Bile salts are often given to modify the thickness of the bile.

Most important of all, however, is to keep the amount of any meal down. A study of a large series of cases indicates that most of the attacks of gallstone colic or from an infected gallbladder come on at 10 or 11 o'clock at night after the patient has gone to bed after a heavy evening meal.

For a person over the age of 40, cutting down on the amount of any meal by at least one-third would not only reduce attacks, but be good for the general health. Suggested articles for such a diet are:

Breakfast: Melba toast with butter; cooked cereal with cream; egg.

Luncheon: Custard; a small serving of fish or meat.

Dinner: Baked potato with butter; small serving of meat; toast with butter; stewed or fresh fruit.

The first issue of the Tahlequah (Okla.) Times, published Sept. 28, 1878, praised printers as the unsung heroes of "civilizing the world."

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

Spencer Asks Lillian To Spend a Few Days Under Guard at the Farm.

I PAID tribute to my father's quickness in waiting until Lillian had given her wounded husband the kiss for which she had been granted permission before intimating that he wished some decision from her which would mean a sacrifice of inclination equal to that which Harry had just made.

She raised herself from stooping over her husband as my father spoke, and whirled as if the words had been stabs to points pricking her flesh.

"What do you mean?" she demanded, almost truculently.

"I cannot tell you all that I mean, my father said equably, but firmly. "Please sit down and compose yourself before I tell you what it is I wish of you."

She obeyed him, but looked at once toward her husband.

"Are you in on this, Harry?" she asked with fierce insistence.

His smile was tenderly indulgent, but had in it the firmness to which she yields on the rare occasions when he exhibits it.

Agrees With Spencer

"Yes, dear, I'm afraid I am. I agree with the Chief absolutely; and so will you, I am sure, when you hear what he wishes of you."

Her eyes met his levelly for an instant, then turned back to my father's face.

I saw the corners of my father's mouth quirk in the amusement he generally finds in Lillian's unreasoning obstinacy, whenever her love for husband or daughter is involved.

"It's just this," he said. "I think I am justified in believing that we are getting closer to the men back of this search for Jack Bickell. Of course, Marion is simply a pawn in their game, and they will not harm her as long as they think she may be useful to them as a hostage, to help them to get the information they want concerning Jack.

"In the last twenty-four hours, as I have just told you, we have been able to throw one or more effective monkey-wrenches into their machinery." Then, as Lillian straightened herself almost convulsively, he made a hasty amendment.

Asks Blind Obedience

"I don't mean that we have any idea just now of where Marion is hidden," he said, "but we are nearer to knowing than we have ever been since she disappeared.

"But"—and his pause made the word significant, "if I am to succeed in finding her, and in capturing the master spider in this far-flung web, I must have co-operation—yes, and blind obedience—from every one of you. Marion's life may depend upon that. Therefore I am asking you to do the thing I shall now designate, no matter how much your inclination rebels against it."

Lillian waited before answering him, her face set in lines of pain—and obstinacy. Then she capitulated royally, as she always does when she yields a point.

"I don't know to what I am committing myself," she said, "but—I'll be a good soldier, as I can see Harry has been."

"When Harry is in such shape that you can leave him," my father told her, "which ought to be in two or three days now, I wish you to go down to the farm and stay there for a few days."

"The farm!" she repeated mechanically. "Leave here — where any word from Marion must come—"

"That is where you are mistaken," my father retorted. "No authentic word from Marion is coming here—or anywhere else—for quite a while. Give me credit for knowing something of the mental processes of these—I'd call them hyenas, but I'd have to apologize to the animals.

"The only messages that are coming here," he said, "are lying ones, designed to let you into a trap. Don't you see that if they could get hold of you too, they would play upon Marion's love for you and yours for her in trying to get the information which they erroneously believe you have?"

"I can have you guarded at the farm," he went on, and added, surprisingly, "It is impossible here."

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, June 18

THE SIDEREAL forces operative on this day make for a lively, enterprising and pleasant state of affairs, with much to be gained through travel, communications, change, agencies, literary and artistic pursuits of various phases and forms. The danger however may be found in a highly stimulated urge for the pursuit of pleasure or gratifications of the emotional or romantic impuses.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which the pursuit of pleasure, romance or emotional indulgences may predominate above business or practical endeavors. In the latter channels there is opportunity for profit and success through travel, change, agencies communications.

A child born on this day may be disposed to the pursuit of pleasure, with the emotional, sentimental and romantic uppermost rather than business.
